Route 111 Job Among 18 Bids To State

Is Among 10 Projects Within 'Awardable' Range of Estimates

An apparent low bid of $1,076,486 for improvement of Route 111 and its intersection with State Road 35 (Granite City-Collinsville road) was among ten bids on highway improvement projects that are considered by state highway officials as within "awardable range" of state cost estimates, it was reported today.

The bid was submitted by A. H. Seebold Co. of Granite City and was among bids opened by the Illinois Division of Highways Friday on 18 highway improvement projects in Madison and St. Clair counties. All of the projects previously were delayed by the freeze on federal highway funds which ended a month ago.

The Route 111 project calls for resurfacing of between two and three miles of the highway and reconstruction of the SA Route 35 intersection, including installation of traffic signals. The intersection now is protected only by a flashing signal.

White bids on ten of the proposed improvements in the two-county area are considered within the range of cost in which contracts are awardable, eight other projects totaling $6.8 million were more than 5% over the cost estimate released earlier by the Division of Highways. The 5% figure is used as a basis for determining whether highway cost bids are reasonable.

New State Charter Gaining Backers

No Decision Yet by Chicago Democrats on Support or Opposition

With Chicago Democrats delaying their stand until after the November general election, the proposed new Illinois Constitution appeared to be gaining support over the holiday weekend as downstate residents studied its provisions.

Voters will decide Dec. 15 whether to accept the 14-article document as a replacement for the state constitution in effect for exactly a century.

A "yes" or "no" response will decide the basic question: "Do you approve the proposed 1970 Constitution?" The same kind of answer, "yes" or "no," is to be marked on the issues of "abolishing the death penalty" and "lowering the voting age to 18."

The other decisions facing voters are:

Motorist Rescued From Car In Lake

One of 15 Injured in Area Over Holidays; 26 Traffic Mishaps

An unconscious man, trapped in a small foreign-made auto resting upside-down in a backwater section of Horseshoe Lake on Highway 111, was rescued by quick-thinking passersby at 2:45 p.m. Saturday.

Labor Day weekend traffic here included 15 injuries and 26 accidents.

State police said that Charles M. Schafer, 47, of 425 Maple street, Roxana, lost control of his northbound auto as he was traveling on Highway 111 a half-mile north of State Aid Route 35.

The vehicle skidded from the roadway and overturned in the water. The backwater section separated from the main body of lake water by Route 35, is located up to the shoulder of Highway 111. Estimated depth at the point of the accident is between four and five feet.

Chief Jack Harper of the Long Lake volunteer fire department said the group's rescue unit, headed by John Karlesch, was summoned to the scene and administered oxygen and first-aid to the unconscious man.

He noted that passersby witnessing the accident jumped into the water and righted the auto to release the trapped motorist. Artificial respiration was started immediately on Schafer by his rescuers, among whom was Tom Elliott, 16 Eastgate drive.

The Roxana resident was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was treated for lacerations to the forehead and underwent x-rays of the chest, facial bones, spine and both knees. Later, he was transferred to St. Mary's Hospital, Richmond Heights, Mo.

City Employees Post Pickets at City Hall Today

Pickets were on hand at the city hall in Granite City today in support of demands by 14 clerical and custodial employees for a $50 monthly salary increase.

They are members of AFL-CIO Local 98 of the Building Service Employees Union and are seeking the same salary increase granted to other city employees earlier this year.

Sanction for the strike came from the local's international union on Friday, and employees picketed for a half hour at 4:30 p.m. The contract with the city expired last April 30.

The dispute is expected to be considered at a meeting of the City Council tonight. Negotiations have been underway since May but no arrangements were made during the weekend for other contract talks.

The council's finance committee, headed by Alderman R. E. Robertson has offered an increase of $20 a month retroactive to May 1 and another $20 increase beginning in November. Salaries of striking employees range from $325 to $600 per month.

Mayor Parney proposed a $50 raise in the new city budget but it was turned down by the city council.

Sheriff's Office To Operate From General Revenue

The Madison county board of supervisors voted today to operate the sheriff's office as a "fee" office and set up an appropriation of $129,280 to operate the sheriff's office out of the general fund for the remaining three months of the fiscal year. The county's fiscal year ends on Nov. 30.

At the same time, however, the board rejected two resolutions, one of which would have eliminated quarters for the sheriff. The other would have taken away the sheriff's food allotments.

The first of these resolutions was submitted by Joe Watsker, Alton township, and the other by Roger Elbie of Wood River township.

In still another action, the board revised the system for paying deputies for transporting prisoners, providing a mileage fee of 15 cents per mile instead of the 40 cents collected previously in many instances.

A resolution creating a Public Building Commission also was approved by a 25-19 vote following only brief discussion. The resolution was amended to provide a board of seven members instead of five as proposed earlier. Four of the commission members can be members of the county board.

New Industrial Park Located in Nameoki Twp.

Plans for establishment of a new industrial park in Nameoki township which will be dedicated to small industries and businesses on tracts of five acres or less were announced today by Ed Moore of the Ed Moore Construction Co. who has started construction of one major warehouse and is negotiating for two other installations in the near future.

The park area is located along Route 111 about one-half mile south of Highway 162. It will be known as Lakeside Industrial Park and will be administered by a corporation of the same name. The Moore construction firm will handle development and construction of projects within the park.

The land is divided into two-acre and five-acre tracts which will be sold to small businesses. Moore said the park is not interested in businesses which will require more than 5 acres.

Transportation is one of the primary incentives for businesses to move into the park. Moore said, noting that products and materials can be moved directly from the park site to St. Louis by way of I-70 with immediate access to I-270. Materials can be moved to St. Louis from the park in about 15 minutes and to Chicago in about four and one-half hours, he said.

Building Warehouse
The Moore company completed construction of its new central office and warehouse on the site in May, 1969, and construction is now underway on a 26,000 square foot building to be occupied by the G and P Realty firm. The building, which is to be completed Nov. 1, will contain two large overhead cranes to move steel moving products and supplies.

The company is expected to hire about 40 employees. After the first year of operation in the new building, G and P plans to expand the facilities on their five-acre tract.

It is unknown how many companies will be able to locate in the park because tracts have not been laid out.

At least two major companies are now "seriously considering" sites in the park, according to Moore. Details will not be announced until contracts have been signed.

Other projects underway by the Moore company include the

This is the fourth annual dinner sponsored by the Cahokia Knights of Columbus and supported by the Shrine. Ainal will have its Drum and Bugle Corps which will perform at 1:30 p.m.; the Oriental Band will play at 4 p.m.; and the 17-piece stage band, "The Nobles," will play from 5 p.m. till they wear out.

Mayor Seeks New Check On City Census Results

A final opportunity to be added to the 1970 population count is offered Granite City residents who complete the adjacent form and return it to the city hall office of Granite City Mayor Donald Partney, 2000 Edison Avenue, if they feel they were not counted in this year's government census.

Granite City residents urged to complete the questionnaire are persons who failed to return the census form, mailed to each household prior to last April 1, or those who were not counted in person by census takers in a call-back program conducted in early May.

The unofficial population total for Granite City in 1970 was 36,088, according to regional census officials. In 1960, the official count was 40,973 residents. An official special census, conducted here about five years ago, showed a population of 39,850.

Expressing a belief the preliminary census figures may be incomplete, Mayor Partney said today the city stands to lose nearly $23,000 from state income taxes sources alone with reduction of close to 4,000 people from the previous census.

Additional sums of money will be lost to Granite City taxpayers from other areas, including motor fuel tax funds allocated to the city and reduction in federal funds which are allotted to states, counties and municipalities on a per-capita basis, the mayor explained.

The forms will be tabulated by the mayor's staff and the information correlated and relayed to the U. S. Census Bureau.

Student Mod Squad Gets Firm Practices Change

Illinois Atty. Gen. William J. Scott said today that through the efforts of his "Mod Squad"—a group of students working in his Consumer, Fraud and Protection division this summer—a national encyclopedia company has agreed to change its methods of sale, promotion and advertising.

Scott said that two of his Mod Squad members, John Friedman, a senior at the University of Wisconsin, and Mary Soli, a junior in the DePaul College of Law, conducted the three-month investigation which led to an agreement by the company to change its business practices.

Representatives of the New York and Chicago offices of P. F. Collier Inc., a subsidiary of Crowell, Collier and MacMillan Inc., have signed an assurance of voluntary compliance with changes ordered by the Illinois attorney general's office, according to Howard Kaufman, chief of Scott's consumer division.

Friedman and Soli answered a Collier ad promising a $140-a-week salary for encyclopedia salesmen. After a three-day training course, they found that the jobs actually were paid on a commission basis.

Kaufman alleged that during the three-day course, salesmen were taught a misleading "sales pitch" which involved telling families they had been especially selected to receive a "free" set of "entirely new" encyclopedias that would not be on sale for several months.

The customer was required to write a letter of comment on the set, and to keep it up to date with yearbook supplements. The supplements, however, cost about $600, and payments could not, at the company represented, be spread over a 10-year period.

The customer was required to sign a compliance agreement signed by Collier, the encyclopedia company has agreed to stop misleading advertising promising a salary to its salesmen.

It has agreed to revise its retail sales installment contract to conform with Illinois statutes, and to register with the state as an out-of-state corporation doing business in Illinois.

Lastly, the encyclopedia firm has agreed to stop the offer of a "free" set of encyclopedias which actually cost $600.

Scott warned consumers to be wary of similar sales practices on the part of other companies.

Symphony Preparing for 1970-71 Season

The St. Louis Symphony Society announced this week that it has undertaken the biggest subscription campaign in its 91-year history.

Included in the season ticket sales effort is a mass mailing of the 1970-71 season brochure to a list of 550,000 households, the largest mailing ever employed by a cultural organization here.

The campaign, organized by the Symphony Society and its board of directors, is being aided by Danny Newman of Chicago, a nationally recognized authority on audience development. His work on behalf of the St. Louis Symphony was funded by a grant from the Ford Foundation.

Components of the campaign, in addition to the mass mailing, include a telephone sales campaign, a group sales drive, solicitation of professional groups and students, a commission selling program and a special newspaper advertising campaign.

Offer 11 Different Series
Goal of the campaign is to increase season attendance at Symphony Orchestra concerts. Eleven different concert series are being offered to the public, ranging from a 24-concert Saturday evening subscription series to a three-concert Baroque Orchestra series.

Five new miniature series, ranging from three to six concerts during the year, have been announced. These "mini-series" include two sets of six Thursday evening concerts, two sets of five Sunday Festival of Music concerts, and the Baroque series.

The two Thursday evening series are part of the regular subscription concerts of the Symphony Orchestra. These programs will be conducted by Maestro Walter Susskind and guest conductors will feature world-renowned concert artists in guest appearances with the Symphony.

Season ticket prices range from $8.50 to $26 for either six-concert series.

The Sunday Festival of Music has been divided into two five-concert series for the 1970-71 season, the Family Series and the Spectrum Series. All ten concerts are conducted by Leonard Slatkin and feature music in the "pops" vein.

An array of popular guest stars will appear with the orchestra. Season tickets for either five-concert series range from $6 to $16.

The Baroque Orchestra series is a three-concert Saturday evening set of music from the Age of Bach, Alexander Schneider, one of the world's greatest authorities on Baroque music, will be guest conductor and violinist.

Other guest performers include soprano Benita Valente and pianist Murray Perahia. Season tickets for the series range in price from $3.60 to $9.60.

Student Housing Fills Fast at SIU Campus
Although certain types of housing are filled or are filling rapidly, there are vacancies for fall quarter students at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, especially in privately-owned dormitories. Classes start Sept. 22.

Except for a few instances, all university housing had been reserved by July 1. Right now, according to J. W. Gasser of housing business services, contracts, available due to cancellations, have been offered to 30 prospective students.

There are some vacancies for coeds in small group housing, the fraternity-sorority area, in cases where sororities must take non-affiliates to fill to the required number. There also are beds for a few men at SIU's Vocational-Technical Institute near Carterville.

Mrs. Carol Antes, coordinator of the SIU Housing Information Center, said most off-campus residence bulk report vacancies. Exceptions are the Baptist Student Center, filled unless cancellations occur, and Wilson hall, with vacancies for women, but none for men.

Filling rapidly, she said, are apartments, houses, trailers, and rooming houses.

'Run to the Arch' Jog Planned by Area Y's

Men and women from the Quad-City area have been invited to participate in the first annual St. Louis area YMCA "Run to the Arch" on Friday, Oct. 3.

According to Ron Ireland, local YMCA staffman, the run begins at 7:30 a.m. at the southwest corner of Forest Park and ends at The Gateway Arch, a distance of about seven miles.

This is not a competitive event but rather a means of demonstrating to the public the need for regular exercise and the great benefits of jogging for all people, men and women, young and old.

The run is open to any St. Louis area resident who is in condition to complete the distance. Participants will jog a group for the first three miles, walk about one mile and jog the remaining three miles at a pace of 9 minutes per mile.

Ireland added that it is recommended that all participants prepare themselves by getting a medical checkup and by jogging regularly for several weeks before the event. Those interested should register at the YMCA by Oct. 3 in person or by phone. There is no fee for entering and membership is not required.

Page said the first payments for July and August have been vouchered and checks are being processed. He said the state now is providing about 39% of the cost of schools, an increase of four per cent over last year, and hopes that the figure will be at least 50% in the near future.

The school claims are subject to change after supplementary state aid claims are filed in October based on average daily attendance (ADA) of the first month of school.

The increase in state support results from a greater ADA in the best six months during 1969-70, the alternate method of computation, the eight per cent factor and the density factor.

Further information may be obtained by calling the season ticket office at Powell Symphony Hall, JE 3-2500.

EARL says...

I'm writing this as I sit on the plane coming back from Dallas, Texas. I've spent the last 5 days at the National Buyling Syndicate Show, making my spring and summer purchases at low prices.

The Syndicate, owned and operated by its members, is now a strong buying force in the sporting good industry. We have seventy members operating over 150 stores and doing in excess of 75 million dollars a year. By buying with this group, EARL's Discount Store enjoys all the benefits of lower prices thru volume purchases. We can be, and are, competitive with the largest of discount stores.

You are going to see some new and exciting products for next spring and although prices in the general market have risen, by virtue of our volume buying strength we have managed in many cases to bring lower prices to you through extra discounts based on our volume of business. Also in fall and winter goods I made some spectacular buys at extremely low prices. As the months roll by you will see by my ads what really good deals I made for you.

Going back a week... I got back pictures taken at Carlyle Lake; stop in and see them.

THAT'S EARL, BROTHER...

FEATURE RACE WINNER in super-modified auto competition here Friday night, Chuck Amati in car No. 44.

Amati, Stanton Win at Speedway

Chuck "one-armed bandit" Amati and Bob Stanton shared the winners' circle at the Tri-City Speedway Friday night after a doubleheader super-modified and hobbystock program.

Amati's number 44 sprint car crossed the finish line in the feature super-modified race with Wip Spalding's 401 only seconds behind.

The feature had to be restarted after the first lap when Ralph Varman and Butch Schwartz spun out between the cars which entered the evening's events. The eighth car, number 27, driven by Van Doran, flipped over the retaining wall beyond the second turn during the first heat. He escaped injury in the spectacular accident.

Taking the checkered flag behind Stanton were Louis Jantzen in second, Wip Spalding, who competed in both divisions, taking third, Bob White fourth, Carl York fifth and George Gruenfelder, sixth.

Points accumulated in the race moved Spalding, who now has 2320 points, to within ten points of the current track leader, Bill Uz.

A battle between the two is expected when the sprint cars run again Friday night at Tri-City Speedway.

Three cars spun out during the race, bringing out the yellow light. In the 11th lap, Schwartz spun out between the first and second turns to slow the race for a second time. After only one more green lap, Vartman spun in the second turn, his second time to bring out the yellow light.

Running behind Amati and Spalding for the checkered flag were Jim Moughan in third place, Junior Deitel fourth, Bobby Jones fifth and Russ Hibbard, sixth.

The hobbystock feature included seven of the eight cars which entered the evening's events. The eighth car, number 27, driven by Van Doran, flipped over the retaining

Model Airplane Contest Planned Sunday at Alton

The Tri-City Sky Steelers and the Alton Area Thunderbolts are co-sponsoring the 1970 Illinois Metro-East Model Airplane contest Sunday from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Memorial Airport, Alton.

John D. Plum, 2417 Glen Place, contest director said there will be scalemodel judging of actual replicas of prototype planes. These scale models will be judged on exactness to scale, workmanship, detail and flying ability.

The contests in stunt flying, combat flying and rat races will offer a test of both the planes and the contestants.

Fast highly maneuverable models reaching speeds of 110 mph, will do combat. Points are scored when a pilot can make a "cut" or a "kill" on a strip of crepe-paper pulled by the opponents plane.

In the stunt competitions models are large, some with a wing span of 60 inches. Points in stunt flying are earned by attempting to execute a predetermined sequence of maneuvers such as figure eights, inverted flights and others.

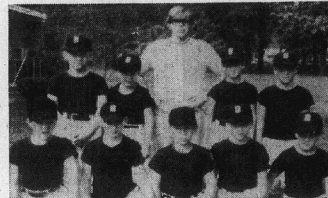

These contests are open to all who wish to enter, providing they are a member, or are willing to become a member of the Academy of Model Aeronautics with headquarters in Washington D.C. Persons interested may join the academy at the contest. Further information is available from Bob Myers, president of the Tri-City Sky Steelers, Rural Route One, Sandy shore drive, phone 334-7207.

Williamson said students involved in the arrest will be disciplined upon their return to campus.

National Secretaries Hear of Russian Trip

Members of the Tri-Cities Chapter, National Secretaries Association (International), at a meeting Thursday evening at the Rose Bowl, learned that although the outside world Russia presents a problem, the opposite is true when the tourist is shown through the towns and countryside by guides.

Mrs. Helen Gantcheff, who made the tour of Russia several years ago with a study group headed by a professor from Columbia, related her trip through presentation of color slides for the secretaries, starting with a five-day trip down the Danube aboard a Russian river boat from Vienna.

Mrs. Gantcheff, during her talk, explained that before making a trip to Russia, all arrangements and payments must be made prior to leaving the United States. Once in Russia, one may travel about the city in his own car or in public transportation. People who use buses in Russia are on an honor system; they enter by a rear door and deposit their own fare in a box and take a ticket. If they do not have the exact change, they wait for the next passenger boarding the bus, and get change from him.

Russia, which is three times as large as this country, has eleven time zones and is composed of 130 different ethnic groups.

Mrs. Bernice DeRousse called the meeting to order and reports were given. Announcement was made of a workshop to be held by the Alton Chapter Oct. 3 which several of the members of the Tri-Cities Chapter will attend.

Other coming events include the annual District Conference to be held Oct. 16-18 in Chicago, and the Illinois Commission on the Status of Women at SIU-SW Sept. 26.

Miss Dolores Bourisaw distributed ballots for nominating the 1970-71 "Boss of the Year" in October.

Attendance awards went to Mrs. Helen Gantcheff, Mrs. Betty Borsch and Mrs. Charis Vunovic. Other prizes were won by Mrs. DeRousse, Miss SEPTEMBER BRIDE, Mrs. Robert Chance. Her wedding took place Saturday evening at Dewey avenue United Methodist Church.

Sandra Lane Married to Robert Chance Saturday

Rev. Raymond Clodfelder, pastor of Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church, performed the wedding ceremony at the church Saturday evening, uniting in marriage Miss Sandra Lane and Sp.4 Robert Chance.

The young people exchanged their vows at 7 o'clock before the flower-decked altar lighted with burning candles in candelabra. More of the candles in hurricane lamps lighted the aisle through which the procession passed.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lane, 2215 Nevada avenue. Mr. Chance is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chance, 2817 Lynch avenue.

Music for the wedding was furnished by Miss Sandra Potillo, organist, and Miss Anna Mae Rainwater, vocalist. The latter sang the Lord's Prayer; and the "Love Theme" from Romeo and Juliet. The candles were lighted by Jimmy Lane, a brother of the bride, and Charla Rainwater, a cousin.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. They were preceded down the aisle by Miss Linda Wilson, maid of honor, Mrs. Debbie Murphy, a sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Brenda Burlington, the bride's cousin, bridesmaids.

A gown of pure white peau de soie was worn by the bride. It was designed with a high, ring collar and long bishop sleeves. The collar, cuffs and Empire bodice were trimmed with imported Venise lace which also ran from the neckline through the bodice and trellised the A-shaped skirt, ending in a detachable train. A Camello heel piece of lace matched the gown and secured a long flowing cathedral veil of silk illusion. The bride carried a Juliet bouquet of pink and white roses.

The attendants were dressed alike in purple velvet gowns designed with high ring collars, short puff sleeves and A-line skirts. The puffs and Empire bodices were beaded with pink, and headpieces were velvet petals trimmed with beads. Their flowers were pink and purple miniature carnations.

A little flower girl, Cassy Lynn Hildreth, cousin of the bride, dressed like the older attendants, carried a small bouquet of pink carnations. David Chance, a brother of the bridegroom, served as ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lane chose a pink crepe dress and a matching lace coat and accessories. The bridegroom's mother was in blue lace. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Following a reception at the church a buffet supper was served and the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in the Ozarks. The guest book at the reception was attended by Kathy Riddle, Sp.4 Chance will leave Sept. 29 for duty in Vietnam.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reynolds and family of Melvindale, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Simpson, Moro, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Votaw, Bridgeport, Mo.; CWO and Mrs. Robert Bayer, Camp Pendleton, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. George Van Valkenburg, Chicago, and Mrs. Lela Chance, Caseyville.

Question Before Illinois Voters-- Voting Rights at Age 21 or 18?

By RYAN HUNTER
Student Reporting Project, University of Illinois

The Illinois Constitutional Convention has decided to ask the voter to approve or disapprove of the 18-year-old voting age in a referendum separate from the bulk of the proposed new Constitution.

Charles Shuman of Sullivan, vice-chairman of the Suffrage Committee, explains: "It's an emotional issue—not a political one—and we didn't want to risk approval of the rest of the article because of it."

No one knows for sure how the voter will react to the 18-year-old vote in light of recent campus disorders, delegates say.

The drive to lower the voting age has a long history, accelerating with more and more demands in recent years.

In a statement to the Suffrage Committee in support of lowering the voting age, David Dodds Henry, president of the University of Illinois, pointed out that since 1943, 153 Congressional resolutions were introduced to amend the United States Constitution to lower the voting age to 18.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, W. Va. (D), noted in testimony Feb. 16, 1970, before the Subcommittee on Constitutional Amendments of the Senate Judiciary Committee, that "only one of these resolutions ever reached the floor of either the Senate or the House."

In 1954 when the Senate defeated a proposed Constitutional amendment by a vote of 34 yeas and 24 nays.

A total of 58 senators voted that day—it was 52 yeas and 6 nays. The amendment was not passed.

However, this year a different technique was used successfully in the U. S. Congress, setting the stage for a U. S. Supreme Court test of voting by 18-year-olds.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana and Sen. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts, the Democratic leader and assistant leader, respectively, took the position that a constitutional amendment is not needed for 18-year-olds to vote. Instead, they attacked an amendment to the Voting Rights Act.

President Nixon said he favors voting by 18-year-olds but urged Congress not to follow the Mansfield-Brooke strategy for fear it would destroy the entire Voting Rights Bill. However, he signed the resulting legislation.

To forestall partisan bickering, Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., was quick to insist that efforts to lower the voting age have always had bipartisan support.

Here is the record, according to Bayh:

"In 1954, President Eisenhower, in his State of the Union message, called for Congress to enact a constitutional amendment to permit 18-year-olds to vote."

"President Kennedy spoke forcefully of the need to involve young people in the political process and saw a lowering of the voting age as the key to sensible political action by our younger citizens."

"In 1968, in a special message to Congress, President Johnson proposed a constitutional amendment to lower the voting age and urged prompt Congressional action."

"The Democratic party platform in 1968 pledged the party to support a constitutional amendment lowering the voting age to 18."

"The Republican party platform, while it did not favor a constitutional amendment to lower the voting age, called on the states, individually, 'to re-evaluate their positions with respect to 18-year-olds voting.'"

"President Nixon, many times during the 1968 campaign, expressed his support for lowering the voting age to 18."

On the state level, Sen. 1962, nearly every state has considered some legislative action to lower the voting age.

In 14 states—according to a study performed by the Library of Congress—measures to lower the voting age have passed in at least one house of the legislature.

And, according to the Congressional Quarterly Service in its weekly report of May 23, 1969, bills to lower the voting age had been introduced in every State legislature in 1968 or 1969 except Georgia, where it is already 18, and Mississippi.

The four states with voting ages lower than 21 are: Georgia, age 18, adopted in 1945; Kentucky, age 18, since 1853; Alaska, age 18, since 1959; and Hawaii, age 20, since 1959.

Twelve other states submitted the issue of lowering the voting age for the decision of their voters in 1970:

Federal Snooping Is a Matter of Valid Concern But Some of It Must Continue

Because no one likes his privacy invaded, and because the right to individual privacy is one of the cornerstones of our democracy, a plan by U. S. Senator Sam J. Ervin Jr., North Carolina Democrat, probably must have support. He would set up a new federal regulatory agency to curb the "computerized threat by the government against Americans' constitutional freedoms."

His expressed fear of federal data banks, which might enable national leaders to pry into the lives of any citizen they choose, is valid. The prospect is one that should concern everyone.

But before Congress makes too hasty a move, we hope it also evaluates the impact on the association of information about enemies of America, including the tragically misguided groups which have begun setting bombs and booby traps at universities and government buildings.

A particular target of Ervin is the activity of Army intelligence agents in monitoring civilians active in political dissent and civil disorder.

Responsible dissent is essential for freedom to flourish, but it has become obvious in recent months that some of those who talk frequently about violently stopping governmental processes later take another step and put their ideas into practice. "Where there is smoke there is sometimes fire," and investigators must not be so thwarted in their efforts that there is already low percentage of arrests and convictions of mass killers and destroyers.

Testimonies in opposition came from only two groups: The Illinois Division of the American Association of University Women and the Illinois Agricultural Association.

In a summary of material put together by the Suffrage Committee after all the ground work had been done, our board of arguments were listed favoring lowering the voting age:

1. Lowering the voting age is part of the continuous movement to extend the franchise and will strengthen democracy.
2. Eighteen-year-olds today are educationally prepared to vote.
3. Eighteen-year-olds are ready for the responsibility of voting.
4. Eighteen-year-olds should be allowed to participate legitimately in the political process.
5. Two basic arguments were listed opposing the action:

1. Eighteen-year-olds lack the experience and maturity to vote responsibly.
2. The voting age should coincide with the legal age.

Testimonies to the Suffrage Committee from leaders and officials in the states with voting ages lower than 21, unanimously to success in the future.

One statement was given by Sen. Eugene Talmadge; it is taken from a Report of the U. S. Senate Jan. 27, 1970. He writes, "For some 20 years we have seen young people in every State legislature in 1968 or 1969 except Georgia, where it is already 18, and Mississippi."

"The four states with voting ages lower than 21 are: Georgia, age 18, adopted in 1945; Kentucky, age 18, since 1853; Alaska, age 18, since 1959; and Hawaii, age 20, since 1959."

Twelve other states submitted the issue of lowering the voting age for the decision of their voters in 1970:

"In Kentucky the lower voting age has worked quite well," wrote Sen. Marlowe W. Carter, D-Kent. "The delegates of the Illinois Constitutional Convention Jan. 29, 1970, 'I feel that the young people have become more concerned and active as a result. Youth are characterized by their idealism, activism, curiosity and concern in the world of government.'"

No testimony was sent from Hawaii, but in a statement from Thelma Cutler, director of elections in Alaska, Feb. 9, 1970, she wrote that "most Alaskans agree that the lower voting age is proving very satisfactory."

In the Suffrage Committee, 86%.

Voting on Constitution Will Test Whether Government Can Respond to People's Needs

Negative thinkers have been pessimistic and critical throughout the long process of drafting a new Illinois State Constitution and no doubt will find reasons on which to base a negative vote in the Dec. 15 referendum. We have taken a somewhat positive view of the approach because it is so obvious that the 100-year-old state legal framework still in effect is inadequate; many of the problems confronting this and other Illinois communities today stem directly from its wording.

Now that the proposed new constitution has been completed, it has become certain that there will be considerable opposition as well as support because, as was inevitable, it represents a series of compromises.

The delegates, much like the citizens they represented, simply did not see eye to eye on a host of issues and there was no way in which all of them could have it their way all the time.

Nevertheless, there is hope of public approval. By the time the Constitution is put to a vote, the public will have had a chance to see the proposed constitution in detail before making up their minds, and they fortunately have more than three months in which to carry out study.

Samuel W. Witwer, president of the Sixth Illinois Constitutional Convention, sums up the nine-month effort by saying that the delegates followed a middle course rather than being guided by those who "would have had this convention write a constitutional document of ideological perfection" or others who "would have had us simply stamp our endorsement on the status quo."

Commenting that "we have pursued neither extreme," he describes their handiwork as "neither reactionary nor radical... neither regressive nor visionary. It is practical."

Should voters accept this "practical" approach? Most will want to analyze the constitution in detail before making up their minds, and they fortunately have more than three months in which to carry out study.

President Witwer in his closing address Sept. 3 spotlighted a new factor which citizens undoubtedly will wish to include in their thinking:

"These have not been easy times in which to write the constitution of 1970. Between the alpha and omega of this convention, both our state and nation have experienced frustration of spirit, confusion of conscience and division of purpose."

"Should the endeavors of this convention fail, radical and revolutionary elements in our society will be encouraged. It can be a test, in microcosm, of our national will to continue as one of history's great nations and civilizations."

"Failure of governmental institutions to respond to the wishes of the people breeds discontent and despair, the very catalysts of radical and revolutionary action."

Quad-City Amvets Post 51 Selected as The National 'Amvets Post of the Year'

A snappy military salute is due Quad-City Amvets Post 51 for being named "Post of the Year" at the veterans' organization's 26th annual meeting last week in New York City.

The award recognizes the role of Post 51 and the city of Vandalia in the recent acceptance of municipal ordinances requiring that all city flags be lowered to half-staff upon the death of a citizen of the community.

The "post of the year" award is a high honor and one well deserved due to the merit and success of the local Amvets' project.

It is too bad, though, that summer replacements are still running on top or perhaps the stars of "Laugh-In" could very easily be the stars of the "Finger of Fate" award to the board this week. In my opinion, no group is more deserving.

PHYLIS DICKMAN
Then it became clear that the overwhelming majority was present to vote "faith in the proceedings," composed of their peers.

As some members said, "To not do so would set a precedent." And it seemed that, in their opinions, no precedent must be set, even though the so-called charges against Miss Zumwalt were quite ambiguous, to say the least.

As one member of the committee stated more than once, there were just so many things that he was using in the Little Division was Jessica Bush of San Diego, Calif.

That's all that firing has now been done details here would be of no avail.

50 YEARS AGO

SEPTEMBER 8, 1920
Hundreds of dollars in damages, the washing away of several of the paved blocks on some of the principal streets, and the forcing of residents to wade through water a foot deep in places were the results of a downpour of rain here Sunday. The rain started falling in torrents at 3:30 a.m. and continued until daylight.

Water stood in the northern section and several inches deep because of the inadequacy of a sewer outlet. Several persons in order to reach their homes, were compelled to take their shoes and stockings off and wade for a block more. Fishermen from St. Louis waded through water to the Junction, where they boarded cars for the various fishing resorts. Many cellars were reported to be flooded.

Another heavy rainfall occurred this morning, amounting to almost a small cloudburst and accompanied by a light fall of hail.

BACK TO SCHOOL

It's back to school for kids all over the country this month. And for many children it will mean nutritious lunches at school—more this year than before as health leaders are trying to accomplish in particular is to reach some 10 million youngsters who attend schools that have not had any food service facilities at all.

Dr. Jean Meyer, who headed up last year's White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health, recently said that by Thanksgiving 1970, approximately 6,000,000 school children will be receiving government-subsidized hot lunches, compared to 3,400,000 receiving them last year.

Part of this increase is to come through the service of all-day prepackaged meals in schools where there are no facilities to prepare food. A year-long feeding program which has been successful in Philadelphia may serve as the model for such meals.

In Philadelphia, the so-called "snack" feeding program provides hot lunches for thousands of youngsters in depressed areas as little as ten cents a meal. A central commissary and kitchen was used to prepare school lunch Type A lunches. Trucks and buses delivered the meals to the receiving schools for heating and serving. The equipment necessary at the schools is said to be simple and relatively inexpensive.

Meatmeat, of course, there are children who prefer for one reason or another to take their own lunch to school. And there's nothing wrong with that if the lunch is nutritionally adequate. A child can learn about good food choices from either his wise mother or through the educational example set by the Type A school lunches.

The Four Food Groups
Mothers should be guided by the four food group plan, making sure their children receive food from the meat group, the milk group, the fruit and vegetable group, and the breads and cereals group in each meal.

It isn't difficult. A packed lunch for a child most often contains a sandwich or two with meat, cheese, egg salad or some such food as filling, the meat and breads and cereals groups are covered. To help complete the meal, give your child some kind of fruit, and/or celery or carrot sticks. Put it in a plastic container. If your girls want to get fancy, make a small salad and put it in a plastic container. Then have your children buy milk at school.

That's all there is to it.

Pupil Examinations, Inoculations

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)
School days mean physical examinations and inoculations for many youngsters enrolling in Illinois schools for the first time this fall.

State law requires inoculations for measles, mumps, tetanus, diphtheria, polio and whooping cough for a youngster enrolling for the first time in any public, private, or parochial school, unless he has been given an exemption.

The immunization requirement is subject to medical approval. The state of any individual child's health is a factor in the decision to practice medicine in all of its branches to give the physical examination and inoculations. The same requirement applies to the selection of a dentist, podiatrist and optometrist.

The Department of Public Health is authorized to arrange for the child's examination should his parents fail to do so. But no child will be examined or inoculated if his parents or guardian file a statement of constitutional objection and presents it to the school board or the Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities.

The fact that a child has been exempted from a physical examination or inoculation does not excuse him from participating in his school's physical education program.

However, in cases where an examination reveals a physical or emotional condition which prevents participation in courses for normal children, special physical education activities or a modified course may be requested.

Pupils entering the fifth and sixth grades also may be required by the department of Public Health to have immunizations.

Davis-Mefford Wedding Nuptials Held Saturday

Miss Rogers Vay Davis and John Kenneth Mefford were married Saturday evening at St. George Episcopal Church in Belleville.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger E. Davis, 623 Jefferson avenue, Venice. Mr. Mefford's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Mefford, 10519 Lincoln Trail, Caseyville.

Rev. Wilbur Lear, rector of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church in Granite City officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony.

A reception was held afterward in the Parish Hall in the Belleville church. Miss Cris Ann McMenore, a cousin of the bridegroom, presided over the guest register.

A gown of candlelight ivory tulle was worn by the bride. The long lace sleeves were embroidered with crystal beads and appliques of lace were beaded on the dress. A cathedral train was applied with 100-year old heirloom lace which was custom-made of wired lace to match the imported French silk illusion veil falling train-length. A cascade bouquet of white roses was carried by Saturday's bride.

The former Miss Davis and her father were preceded down the aisle by seven attendants. They were Mrs. Janice M. Blatt, matron of honor, and Mrs. Jane Clark, Mrs. Ruth Cooke, a cousin of the bride, Miss Marcia Mefford, a sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Carol Vaughn, Miss Marcella Zaganelli, and Mrs. Gail Joachims-thaler, bridesmaids. Their gowns were made alike on slim lines, four of royal blue and three of emerald green. Headpieces matched the gowns, slightly eased by garters at the culottes beneath. The headpieces, worn on the back of their heads, were of wired peacock feathers. They held small bouquets of white gladioli.

Lani Ann Cooke, the bride's cousin, flower girl, wore a floor-length dress of ivory tulle patterned after the bride's gown and carried a miniature bouquet of white roses. Scott McMenore, the bridegroom's cousin, served as ring bearer.

Mr. Mefford's attendants were James R. Swainick, best man, and Bob Phillips, Alan Shurtz, Maxey Barnett, Larry Mefford, a cousin of the bridegroom, Charles E. Norris, Frank Joachims-thaler, James R. Frey, and Larry E. Travers, another cousin of the bride, groomsmen and ushers.

After a wedding trip the newlyweds will reside at 808 St. Louis road, Collinsville.

The bride, a teacher in the Venice elementary school system, is a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University. She is a member of Delta Omicron, professional music sorority, Delta Kappa Gamma, national honorary teachers organization, and a member of Masquers, Inc., Collinsville.

Mr. Mefford attended Belleville Junior College and is now a student at SIU-SW. He will graduate in 1971 with a B.A. degree in Speech and English. He is a member of Delta Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics fraternity, and of Masquers, Inc., Collinsville.

MRS. PHILIP R. EDWARDS, a bride of Saturday. Before her wedding at St. Jerome's Catholic Church in Troy, Ill., she was Phyllis Ann Loyet.

Miss Phyllis Ann Loyet, Philip Edwards Nuptials

St. Jerome's Catholic Church in Troy, Ill., was the scene of the wedding Saturday afternoon of Miss Phyllis Ann Loyet and Philip R. Edwards.

The bride is a daughter of Erwin M. Loyet, and the late Mrs. Loyet of Route One, Troy. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Edwards, 2902 Maryville road, Collinsville, formerly of Granite City. The ceremony was solemnized at two o'clock with the Rev. Joseph V. Dineen, formerly of Sacred Heart parish in Granite City, officiating at the High Mass.

A program of wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Mary Smith, organist, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bradshaw, vocalists. The selections were "Mass of St. Francis," "Hear Us O Father," and "Blessed Be This Day."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of white organza was fashioned with an Empire silhouette of Venice lace, a high neck and full Camelot sleeves trimmed with lace. A full, sweep Watteau train, detachable, was also trimmed with lace, and a cathedral veil with a pouf of illusion was held in place with pink and white rose petals. The bride carried a tiered cascade of pink baby mums and white cymbidium orchids combined with tulle, ferns and white ribbon.

Miss Nancy Loyet was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Joyce Edwards, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Gloria Martin were bridesmaids. Their identical gowns were made of cherry pink nylon organza. The Empire waists, with lace trim, had graceful lantern sleeves caught at the wrists with white cuffs. Headpieces were poufs of pink illusion falling to the floor and they carried ballerina bouquets of white baby mums accented with pink loops and streamers.

Bill Eagan, USAF, stationed at Tyndall AFB in Florida, was best man. Robert and Richard Edwards, brothers of the bridegroom, were groomsmen and Tom Lyeris and Terry Feig served as ushers.

The bridegroom's mother appeared in an aqua lace dress, matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. A reception attended by approximately 400 guests was held at St. Jacob Community Hall with Mrs. Sharon Hardwick and Miss Jean Kutscher assisting. The newlyweds will make their home in Granite City. The former Miss Loyet, a registered nurse, is a graduate of St. Luke's School of Nursing. Mr. Edwards is employed as an operational trainee at Shippers Dispatch in St. Louis.

TRUTH CIRCLE PLANS WINTER PROJECTS

The ohme of Mrs. Betty Williams, 129 Riviera drive, was the place of meeting Thursday evening for Truth Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

The hostess, leader of the group, was in charge and gave the devotionals for the evening on the book "In the Hand of God" by William Barclay.

This was the opening meeting of the autumn and the members were urged to attend all general meetings of the Women's Society of Christian Service during the winter. Plans were also made for special projects and for the annual bazaar.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Williams to Mesdames Gladys Wallace, Letha Gilchrist, Verna Pieper, Lucy Weaver, Dorothy Frohardt and Shirley Bushue.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Bushue.

Miss Mona Lee Moran is Bride of Thomas Bearce

White chrysanthemums and greenery, together with hurricane candelabra down the aisle, afforded the setting Saturday for the wedding at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church of Miss Mona Lee Moran, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Moran, 2208 Orville avenue, and Thomas F. Bearce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas W. Bearce of Alton.

Rev. Lawrence Mattingly performed the 2 o'clock ceremony and a reception was held in the evening at the VFW Hall.

The bride's gown of organza over tulle featured a high raised waistline, short puffed sleeves edged with Venice lace, daisies, and a high collar of lace. The waistline was marked in front with a self bow, and the redingote skirt edged with lace swept back to form a cathedral train. A mantilla cap of psau, lace and pearls secured the bride's shoulder-length veil of illusion and she held a round bouquet of yellow roses.

Miss Donna Enslay, a cousin of the bride, maid of honor, Mrs. Claire Clayton, the bridegroom's sister, Miss Justine Ahlers, and Miss Brenda Picker, bridesmaids, wore gowns of sate peau over tulle with Empire waists banded with embroidered flowers, high round necklines and short puffed sleeves. Redingote effects accented the A-line skirts and double bows of halane secured modestly veils. They carried bouquets of white mums and daisies tinted to match their gowns. The honor attendant was in yellow and the maids wore mint green.

A little flower girl, Theresa Hurley, the bride's cousin, dressed like the maid of honor, carried a small white basket of daisies and mums. John Acosta served as ring bearer.

Ralph Bearce was best man for his brother, and Kenneth Enslay, and Roger Williams, cousins of the bride, Michael Thornton, Bernard Pickett and Nelson Dwiggin, made up the list of groomsmen and ushers.

The bride's mother was in brown and Mr. Bearce, the bridegroom's mother appeared in a two piece dress of brown with yellow trim. Both had white carnation corsages.

Miss Marguerite Ward presided over the guest book at the reception held at the VFW Hall. The newlyweds will honeymoon at Tin-Tan-A, Lake of the Ozarks, and upon their return will reside in Alton.

The former Miss Moran graduated from the Granite City high school and plans to resume her studies this fall at SIU-SW. The bridegroom graduated from Alton schools. He is employed in Alton.

Student Station Broadcasting From SIU-SW

A new FM radio station assumed operation last week from the new studio in the Communications Building at SIU-SW. The new station is staffed entirely by students from the Western campus, except for engineering which is handled by civil service employees. It broadcasts at 50,000 watts at 88.7 on the FM dial, and can be heard throughout southern and central Illinois and the St. Louis metropolitan area.

WSIU-FM will offer diverse programming including many kinds of music, special programs, broadcasts from the National Educational Radio Network and local news. News will be aimed at the campus and the Metro-East area, but the students hope to expand their coverage to include area news in the near future.

The station begins operating at 6 a.m., seven days a week, and 18 hours of broadcasting, until midnight, is planned. The station's dedication last week included speeches by President Emeritus Delye Morris, Chancellor John Rendleman, Dr. John Rider, director of broadcasting at SIU-SW, and Fred O. Criminger, general manager of the station.

Student staff members of the station are: Keith Nabe of O'Fallon, station manager; Walt Bowen of St. Louis, production manager; Gred McGee, 2920 Dale avenue, traffic director; John Craddock of O'Fallon, continuity director; Huvey Ferguson of Fairview Heights, program development director; Ralph Gracack of Wood River, news director; and Jan Thilman of Edwardsville, head librarian.

One-half hour news broadcasts will be offered at 12:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. daily with a 15-minute broadcast at 8:30 p.m. Five-minute newscasts will be given throughout the day. The news department is furnished by United Press International news wire and audio service and by student reporters.

Baptists Seek $33,000 from SIU Over Closing

The board of directors of the Illinois Baptist State Association has adopted a resolution holding Southern Illinois University trustees responsible for the closing of the Carbondale campus last spring, and asking payment of $33,000 suffered in loss by the Baptist Student Center in Carbondale as a result of the closing.

The Baptist Student Center, adjacent to the Carbondale campus, provides housing for 300 students and operates a public cafeteria. When Southern Illinois University closed last spring due to student disorders, the center refunded $33,000 to residents who had pre-paid for room and board.

The resolution was adopted Tuesday at the semi-annual meeting of the Baptist board in Springfield. C. R. Walker, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Marion, introduced the resolution. After signing by state convention President Charles L. Chaney, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Palatine, the resolution will go to Lindell Sturges of Metropolis, chairman of the S.I.U. board of trustees.

The board also asked its student ministries committee to take another year to study the future of the student center in Carbondale. Center Director Robert C. Fuson earlier this summer recommended closing the center due to intervention in its affairs by the university, financial problems, and the desire of some parents and Baptists to maintain at the center an "atmosphere of a monastery as pertains to dress and social customs" which he said is "virtually impossible on a modern campus."

He also cited a decline in enrollment in Bible courses taught at the center. The study committee, headed by Myron D. Dillow, pastor of the University Baptist Church in Carbondale, will report back in September of 1971. Final action would be determined by the state association in November, 1971, annual convention.

Dillow said this apparently means the center will operate for at least two more school years, or until the end of the spring quarter in 1972. Among other actions, the board voted to recommend a state denominational budget of $1,242,743 for 1971, and a $263,090 budget for the Baptist Children's Home in Carmi. Both budgets are subject to approval by the state association which meets in Rockford on Nov. 3-5. State association President Chaney of Palatine presided at the day-long meeting of the 72-man board which met in Springfield. The state association is comprised of 900 member churches in Illinois, with total membership of 180,000. State offices are now in Carbondale, but with the completion of a $1.5 million Baptist building now under construction on Stevenson drive in Springfield, the offices will move to the capital city sometime in 1971.

Newly Organized Staff to Direct Special Education

An expanded program of special education serving the Granite City, Madison and Venice school districts has been initiated by a reorganized staff which will operate out of the Region One offices at 28th street and Madison avenue.

The Region One program will be under direction this year of Mrs. Elveria S. Kuergeleis. She has been appointed director to succeed Harold V. Thomas, who retired.

School law requires all school districts to provide special educational services, including help for children who are mentally retarded, maladjusted, physically handicapped, such as blind or deaf, and in need of speech correction.

Psychological services that include referring the child to the proper program for help is a key function to the success of the entire program, Mrs. Kuergeleis said.

Special education is financed jointly by the local school districts, and the state and federal governments.

Region One of the special education district is governed by a board of directors made up of area superintendents and members of the Venice, Madison, and Granite City school boards.

Chairman of the board is Harold T. Fisk of Madison. Other members include Harold Davis, vice-chairman, from Granite City, and Jack Tolliver of Venice. Secretary, School superintendents serving on the board are John Pier of Venice, Raymond Dragich of Madison and B. J. Davis, Granite City.

Sergeant Gilliam, an administrative supervisor, is assigned to the 56th Special Operations Wing, a unit of the Pacific Air Force. PACAF is headquarters for air operations in Southeast Asia, the Far East and the Pacific area. He previously served with Detachment 640, Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps, at Southwest Texas State University.
